What is a Primary Care Team?

A Primary Care Team (PCT) is a team of health care professionals responsible for organising and delivering primary health care for the local population.

The team is made up of GPs, Nurses, Physiotherapists, Speech and Language Therapists, Occupational Therapists, Social Workers, Home Support and administrative staff. There is a network of other services available to support the team including Podiatry, Area Medical Officers, Community Welfare, Dental, Ophthalmology, Mental Health and Environmental Health.

The aim of the Primary Care Team is to provide primary care services that are accessible, integrated, of a high quality and which meet the needs of the local population. Eligibility criteria may apply.

Who does what in the Primary Care Team?

And how do you contact them?

GP/Family Doctor

The first point of call for you and your family's health needs.

Public Health Nurse (PHN)

Provides quality health care and support services to enable older people to live in their own homes and community for as long as possible with dignity, independence and maximum quality of life. The Public Health Nurse role includes:

- Needs assessment of older people in their own home
- Advice, guidance, support and advocacy
- Clinical nursing and terminal care nursing
- Support and guidance for carers
- Promotion of healthy ageing through one-to-one contact and group work
- Networking and liaising with: GPs, Hospitals, Hospice Home Care Teams, Meals on Wheels, Home Help Services and all members of the Primary Care Multidisciplinary Team.

Call your local Health Centre.

Health Care Attendant
